EVERY EXIT WAS CUT OFF

Fury of Flames Drove Back the Rescuers and the Victims Fought Each Other in Their Efforts to Get Out of Theatre.

St. Petersburg, March 6.—Ninety persons, many of whom were children, were burned to death and forty others were injured in a fire that destroyed a moving picture theatre at Bologoy yesterday. Reports of the disaster were received here today. The flames broke out while the exhibition was in progress and quickly enveloped the building, cutting off every avenue of escape.

The fury of the flames drove back the rescuers outside the theatre before they could reach the shrieking victims, who, in their efforts to get out of the building, fought desperately among themselves. The machine, which was being used in the theatre was a cinematograph.

Bologoy is a small place in the southern part of the province of Novogorod.

MAN STRANGELY MISSING.

Albert H. Grimshaw, Somerville Druggist, Gone Four Days.

Boston, March 6.—Albert H. Grimshaw, 28 years old, proprietor of a drug store at 288 Highland avenue, Somerville, has been missing from his home, 99 Cedar street, in that city since Thursday, and his wife fears that he has wandered away in a fit of temporary mental derangement, or has met with foul play.

Grimshaw left his place of business Thursday morning at 10 o'clock to go to a wholesale drug firm in Boston. He had $200 with him, and never reached his destination. He has been prominent in athletics in Somerville, and was a member of the Somerville Y. M. C. A. basketball team.

His family fears that he may have received some injury to his head during some of his athletic activities, and that he may have become mentally unbalanced. He has a wife and two children and is well known socially in Somerville.

His wife, who is on the verge of a nervous breakdown from worry, has appealed to the Somerville police to aid her in her search for her husband.

STEEL TRUSTS INVESTIGATION.

New Congress Will Probe Into Matter of Their Existence and Operation.

Washington, D. C., March 6.—A searching inquiry into the existence and operations of the so-called "steel trusts" will be one of the first actions taken by the incoming Congress, according to Representative Stanley of Kentucky. He declared today that he has canvassed the members-elect to the coming Congress, and with the Democrats already pledged to support such a resolution, the passage of the order is believed to be assured.

IMPRISONED AND SHOT MANY.

President Went Away, Military Governor Punished Enemies.

New York, March 6.—Passengers arriving today on the steamer Albion from Haiti reported trouble at Port Au Prince during President Signes' absence on the northern frontier, due to the fact that the military governor, left in charge at the capital, took advantage of the president's absence to punish personal enemies. A number of these, the passengers on the Albion said, were cast into prison and afterwards shot.

DOUBLE MURDER COMMITTED.

CALL BY TELEGRAPH.

Burlington Minister Had Unusual Experience Yesterday.

Burlington, March 6.—Rev. F. D. Penney yesterday received a call to the First Baptist church of Schenectady, N. Y. The call came by telegraph and said that fuller details were coming in a letter. Mr. Penney was unable to state last evening whether or not he would accept, before investigating further. The Schenectady church is about the same size as the Burlington church. Mr. Penney has been in Burlington nine years and during that time his church has had a remarkable growth, nearly 300 new members being received, 195 by confession of faith. He has also been a prominent evangelist, working both in his own and other churches, and in this work his absence will be greatly felt, as well as to the Anti-Saloon league, where he was one of the hardest workers. During Mr. Penney's pastorate the church edifice has been renovated at the expense of many thousands of dollars, and the Sunday school has made a substantial gain in membership.

Aside from his activities in the lines already mentioned, he was for many years a member of the national board of managers of the Young People's Baptist union, and is president of the Vermont Baptist Ministers' Conference and Aid society, first vice president of the board of managers of the Vermont Baptist convention and chairman of the committee for raising funds, and on the committee on reports on general condition of the Baptist society.

HOSPITAL QUARANTINED.

Five Cases of Diphtheria in Institution at Brattleboro.

Brattleboro, March 6.—Nurses and patients at the Memorial hospital were yesterday placed under strict quarantine following the discovery of several cases of diphtheria at the institution, and until the ban is lifted none of the 23 persons who are undergoing treatment will be allowed to leave and no new patients will be admitted. Five persons have thus far been found to be afflicted with the disease, of whom three are nurses and two patients.

The cases are believed to have originated with a man who underwent an operation at the hospital a short time ago but who has since been discharged. He had been ill with diphtheria at his home but was believed to have fully recovered before he went to the hospital. His nurse, Miss Myrtle DeRosier, was the first to show symptoms of diphtheria a few days ago. She was placed in the charge of another nurse, Miss Jennie Dean, and a few days later Miss Dean came down with the disease.

The next to contract it was a patient, Mrs. Fred C. Crossley, and yesterday two more cases were discovered, Miss Grace Randall, a nurse, and Mrs. Elton Williams, a patient.

Dr. Henry Tucker, chairman of the board of health, stated that it would probably be a week before it could be known whether any of the other inmates had contracted the disease. During the time that the inmates are isolated, Miss Elizabeth Schumacher, matron of the hospital, will give out free bulletins as to the condition and the authorities say they will be glad to answer inquiries at any time.

With Deputy Sheriff's Furnishing the Surprise.

Rutland, March 6.—Three deputy sheriffs, armed with a search warrant, seized a large quantity of beer and ale at the home of Rafael Cocifio on West street last Saturday night, and the proprietor of the place was locked up in the county jail to await hearing. The officers had been watching the house for several days and last night they saw a load of beer being delivered. When the raid took place, they found a large number of men drinking beer around a caulk, which was perched on a chair.

Edwin Ross passed Sunday with friends in Williamstown.

POLITE MAN
STOLE $100,000George Bancroft, 86, Victim of Bold Thugs

WAS FIRST BUMPED OVER

This Was Done by Large Man Who
Was Ostensibly Hurrying Around
Corner—Small Man Rushed to Assist New Yorker.

New York, March 6.—George Bancroft, a broker, was robbed last Thursday afternoon of securities worth approximately $100,000 in the vestibule of the Produce Exchange Safety Deposit and Storage company, but the loss was not discovered until today. Mr. Bancroft is 86 years of age.

The whole distance from his offices to the vaults is two hundred feet. On Thursday Mr. Bancroft placed the securities in an envelope and walked alone from his offices to the Produce Exchange. As he entered the Exchange, he noticed a young man leaning against the wall. Mr. Bancroft continued down the corridor, but just as he turned the corner a tall man bumped into him, knocking him down.

That was the cue for the under-sized man, who helped him up, solicitously tucking the fallen envelope, at least Mr. Bancroft thought it was the fallen envelope, under his arm. Mr. Bancroft went on to his box and deposited it as usual. This morning, when his son unlocked the box, he found only an envelope there, which contained three old newspapers. A clever substitution had been made.

The securities were made up of railroad and industrial stocks, which could be easily hypothecated in any stock brokerage house in the United States. Both the firm of George Bancroft and company and private detectives are working on the case, convinced that the substitution was worked by men who had made a close study of Mr. Bancroft's habits and business methods.

William M. Sullivan, attorney for the Bancrofts, said this afternoon that the numbers of all the missing certificates are in the firm's possession.

"We have certain people under suspicion," Mr. Sullivan said. "The robbery may have been one that was engineered entirely by professional crooks, and it may have been an inside job without outside assistance."

TAXI DRIVER ROBBED WOMAN.

At First He Denied It but Later Made Confession.

Boston, March 6.—Eugene Furness, 32 years of age, a taxi cab driver living at 10 Cortes street, was arrested just before 9 o'clock last evening for robbing a woman passenger, Ellen Donnelly of 139 Mt. Pleasant avenue, of $165. The young woman, who was well dressed and greatly wrought up, attracted the attention of Officer Bresnahan by shouting from the window of the cab, which was passing swiftly along Washington street near Boylston.

At station 4 Furness at first denied all knowledge of the woman's loss and declared that he had but $30 on his person. When search disclosed $10 in an overcoat pocket, however, he weakened and told the officers that the rest of the money was under one of the cushions in the cab.

VOTED TO STRIKE
SATURDAY NIGHT

Milford, N. H., Granite Cutters Are Now
Drawing Strike Pay, Having Waited Four Days Before Taking Action.

Milford, N. H., March 6.—After waiting four days in the hope of reaching some agreement with the manufacturers, the granite cutters' union on last Saturday night formally declared a strike. The 165 men concerned have not worked since the last day of February, and may not now return until the strike is declared off by the union officials.

There are several points in the agreement between the workmen and the manufacturers yet to be settled, and as the union officials could see no prospect of an immediate agreement, the strike was formally declared, so that the men might be entitled to strike pay from the union.

SULLIVAN'S SUPPORTERS

Issue a Statement Regarding His Candidacy.

[Communicated.]

To the voters in ward 1: Just a word in favor of candidate D. J. Sullivan before election. Mr. Sullivan has lived in the ward for many years; he is and has been in touch with all the problems that have confronted the general welfare of our city for the past ten years. Though not blessed with a great deal of the world's wealth, Mr. Sullivan has commanded the sincere respect of all with whom he has been associated. Therefore, we desire that the citizens of ward 1 will turn out and do honor to one who has done honor to them.

We wish also to state that we expect the voters on this occasion to take into consideration the impossibility of Mr. Sullivan supplying conveyances to drive people to the polling booths, for the reason that he considers it not in line with clean politics, and furthermore not in harmony with the spirit of the times.

In conclusion, we hope the voters of ward 1 will overlook the fact that we have not annoyed them through the channel of soliciting delegations, etc., believing as we do that it is entirely unnecessary to importune an intelligent body of citizens, such as constitute the residents of the ward.

We beg to remain,
The Sullivan election committee.

OPEN SALOON SCORED

And Its Opponents Stirred by an Appeal
by Fr. McKenna.

At St. Monica's church last night, the pastor, Rev. P. M. McKenna, delivered a strong sermon on the subject of temperance. "The open saloon in Barre is an enemy to public decency, an insult to the best civic ideals," declared the pastor, and his timely consideration of the several phases of the issue to be placed before the voters to-morrow ably supported this statement. It was a stirring appeal to sobriety and municipal pride that held the closest attention of a large congregation for nearly an hour. Many persons from other religious bodies in the city were present, as well as parishioners of St. Monica's church.

Father McKenna chose for his text the words from St. Paul's second epistle to the Corinthians: "Behold, now is the accepted time. Behold, now is the day of salvation at hand." He said in part: "Contrary to the deep-seated conviction of a large number of no-license advocates, active forces are busily working to place Barre in the 'yes' column at the coming election. Neither money, influence nor power is being spared to attain this end. Hence there should be no false feeling of security to persuade the voter to stay away from the polls to-morrow. Too many men to-day are placing the dollar sign before the human soul to warrant such a feeling. At the last March meeting, the majority against license was nearly cut in twain by this same apathy and lack of interest on the part of voters. Barre in the liquor column means crowded bar rooms, congested streets, blasphemous language and insults to women and innocent children."

"If this connection, the importance of the right solution of the issue in its relation to the youth of the city cannot be over-estimated. Whether little children shall be faced continually with degrading examples of drunken revelry and debauchery during the coming year rests entirely with the men who cast their votes Tuesday. The greatest tragedy in life is the home of a drunkard's wife heroically endeavoring to rear a drunkard's children in the paths of righteousness. It is not the role of the woman who courts notoriety on the suffragists' platform that is at stake, but rather the well-being and happiness of the mother in the home, who sacrifices everything for her children."

"Prohibition does not prohibit in every instance, it is true, but it does materially lessen and regulate the evils of the liquor traffic. Therefore, it behooves every citizen of Barre, who has the best interests of the city at heart, to be present at the polls Tuesday and register a large vote for the suppression of the sale of intoxicating liquor. Every 'no' vote is a vote for public decency and the honor of Barre. That man who acts as he feels 'way down deep in his heart, that man who honestly obeys the promptings of conscience, will work for the perpetuation of the home and for the sustaining power of the nation, the church and of organized society. And, in the last analysis, he will vote for God."

JAIL BARN BURNED
BOY SUSPECTED

Lively Time for Fire Fighters in Chelsea Yesterday Afternoon—Sponcer Boy Had Been Playing in Barn.

Chelsea, March 6.—On Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock the barn at the jail was discovered to be on fire. The fire had evidently started in the hay-loft and had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the barn, but the fire company was soon on the scene with the engine and, under the direction of George A. Tracy, chief engineer, the fire was soon under control and the shed which joined the barn was saved. The origin of the fire is not known for certain, although it is thought that the Sponcer boy who was brought here from Brookfield a week ago to be sent to the reform school until he reaches his majority, for setting fire to a house in Brookfield and who is being held at the jail temporarily for safe keeping, and who had been playing in the barn, knows how the fire ignited.

COUNTY ROAD MEETINGS.

State Highway Commissioner Gates Announces Opening March 15.

Franklin, March 5.—C. W. Gates, state highway commissioner, announces that county road meetings will be held as follows: Wednesday, March 15, Grand Isle at North Hero; Thursday, March 16, Franklin at St. Albans; Friday, March 17, Orleans at Newport; Wednesday, March 22, Windsor at White River Junction; Thursday, March 23, Windham at Brattleboro; Wednesday, March 29, Rutland at Rutland; Thursday, March 30, Bennington at Bennington; Tuesday, April 4, Caledonia at St. Johnsbury; Wednesday, April 5, Washington at Montpelier; Thursday, April 6, Orange at Chelsea; Wednesday, April 12, Lamotte at Hyde Park; Thursday, April 13, Chittenden at Burlington; Friday, April 14, Addison at Middlebury; Wednesday, April 26, Essex at Guildhall.

WHY THE VOTERS OF BARRE CITY
SHOULD VOTE "NO."

[Communicated.]

First reason—Barre Town and Montpelier are going to vote "yes."

Second reason—It costs the city more to keep the poor under license.

Third reason—Poor families can sell at their homes and save the city from keeping them under no-license.

Fourth reason—No one paying $1,000 for a license when you can sell without a license.

Fifth reason—You can get trusted for drink now, but with license you must pay cash.

Sixth reason—A man must be a naturalized citizen to get a license.

As there are quite a number of good families here who helped to build our city but for various reasons have not become naturalized and therefore not entitled to get a license, it is not a square deal, and I hope the voters will consider these reasons before casting their votes and if the private families who are selling now will combine with the conscientious church members they can keep our city in the no license year more.

BEGIN TRIAL
OF WOMANCharged With Deliberate Murder of Her Own Child

MOST REVOLTING CRIME

Mrs. Edith Molber of Schenectady, N. Y., Is Said to Have Confessed to the Police That She Killed Baby and Left Body in Swamp.

Albany, N. Y., March 6.—Charged with the deliberate murder of her own child, Mrs. Edith Molber of Schenectady was placed on trial before Justice Howard in supreme court to-day. The police announce that seldom has been recorded a more revolting crime than that charged against the frail little woman who faced the court to-day. On January 13 the body of a baby was found in a swamp in the outskirts of Albany, and a bottle of carbolic acid was found beside the body. Two days later it was identified as that of George Molber, and the police arrested Mrs. Molber at the station in Rochester. She at first denied her identity, but later broke down and confessed to the killing.

MAN WAS SENTENCED
FOR LIQUOR KEEPING

John Scott of Westerville Sent to the County Jail To-day for a Term of
Six Months—Another Man
Was Discharged.

Two liquor raids were made in Westerville yesterday forenoon on warrants issued by State's Attorney J. Ward Carver, and John Scott and A. Couillard were taken into custody by the officers. Scott was arraigned this morning before Judge Scott as justice and pleaded guilty to the charge of keeping with intent to sell and on recommendation of the state's attorney, the court sentenced him to serve not less than six or more than nine months in the county jail. The officer's found 14 pints of whiskey at Scott's house which the court ordered destroyed.

At Couillard's house the officers found only a small amount of whiskey in a quart bottle. The state's attorney stated to the court that he had made no arrest of Couillard and by reason of the small amount of liquor found in the house and from information he had obtained concerning conditions at Couillard's in the past few months he would recommend that the man be discharged, which the court granted.

A hearing in the case of William J. Brown, charged with breach of the peace for an alleged quarrel at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Lena Gay, was held in the city court Saturday afternoon, which resulted in the court finding Brown guilty. A fine of $5 and costs of $9.32 was imposed, which Brown promptly paid. Brown had no attorney and the only witness put on the stand was Mrs. Gay, who testified to having thrown Brown out of the house twice during the quarrel.

AGREED WITH SELECTMEN.

That Road to Pat Teeley's Should Be Kept Open; No Farther.

Chelsea, March 6.—Pat Teeley, who lives in the south part of Washington, has been having difficulty with the selectmen of his town this winter in regard to keeping a certain part of the highway, which leads past his house, open this winter, and to settle the difference the county road commissioner were called out, and they held a hearing at the hotel Thursday. They decided that the town should keep the road open as far as Mr. Teeley's house and no farther, which was what the selectmen had offered to do, and which Mr. Teeley refused to have them do, on the ground of "whole hog or none." John W. Gordon of Barre City was the attorney for Mr. Teeley and Stanley C. Wilson was the attorney for the town of Washington.

NEAR DEATH IN RIVER.

Wendell Steele Was Rescued by Mario Zanleoni.

Wendell Steele, aged 13 years, son of Mr. Minnie Willis of 106 River street, had a narrow escape from drowning in the river near the Granite street bridge Saturday afternoon. He was standing on the ice near the edge of a hole where the water had not frozen, when he slipped and fell into the hole. Mario Zanleoni was driving over the bridge just as the accident happened, and, hearing the boy's cries, went to his assistance and pulled him out. The water was over the boy's head and he only saved himself from going under the ice by grabbing hold of the edge of the ice. He was thoroughly chilled by the water and, though he is suffering with a cold to-day, it is not thought that anything serious will develop.

CHARLES E. TAYNOR
DIED SATURDAY

Head of Retail Firm of Tayntor Granite Company and Formerly Largely Interested in Barre.

Charles E. Tynnor, president and chief owner of the Tayntor Granite company, and formerly largely interested in the Barre granite industry, died Saturday at his home in Brooklyn, a telegram to that effect having been received here by E. M. Tynnor, his cousin. Later more detailed announcement stated that Mr. Tynnor suffered a shock a week ago last Wednesday. The funeral will be held at his home, Borough park, Brooklyn, this evening at 8 o'clock, and the remains will be taken to Danielson, Conn., for interment.

Charles E. Tynnor was born in Eaton, N. Y., on August 2, 1854, coming from a line of colonial ancestry. His parents were Ira B. and Thankful (Darrow) Tynnor. Of the family of seven children, two survive him, a brother, Rufus N. Tynnor of Hamilton, N. Y., and a sister, Mrs. Sarah Ingraham of Brooklyn. The young man, Charles, had intended to follow the medical profession, and had partially completed his studies to that end when his attention was diverted to business life. He later entered the granite business, and 21 years ago he became interested in Barre granite by buying quarry land in Graniteville and placing E. M. Tynnor in charge. Subsequently, he sold the light quarry to Jones Bros. Co., retaining the dark quarry, which is not at present being operated.

Mr. Tynnor constructed the manufacturing plant now occupied by Charles Bianchi & Sons, selling to Mutch & Calder some years ago after operating it for six years. In those days the plant was one of the finest in Barre. Although going out of the manufacturing business in Barre, Mr. Tynnor continued to have a Barre office until five years ago, at which time he became more interested in Hallowell, Maine, granite, buying a quarry there and holding it until recently. He never resided in Barre, but was a frequent visitor here. The main office of the Tayntor Granite company is in New York City.

Besides the brother and sister, mentioned above, he leaves his wife and two children.

Luther P. Wood was born in South Acworth, N. H., January 29, 1818. When he was yet a young boy his father moved with his family to Mount Holly, where he received his education in the district schools. He removed to Plainfield in 1835 and came to Barre in 1842. He was employed in this city as a carpenter and joiner for four years, later moving to Lowell, Mass., where he was engaged in contracting for and erecting some of the large cotton mills now standing in that city. He was married while in the Massachusetts city to Miss Edna Towne of Barre.

The wedding took place on January 3, 1848, and Mr. and Mrs. Wood immediately returned to their former Vermont home. Three years later he purchased the Colonel Knox Towne farm on West Hill. He had operated the farm successfully ever since, a period of sixty years. Four children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Wood as follows: Ida J., Daniel T., Correll E., and Duane L. Wood. Only the latter, and four grandchildren survive the deceased. Mr. Wood died December 29, 1861, in his day, Mr. Wood was a well-known pedestrian and took much pleasure in starting out on long tramps until within a short time before his death.

1916 NAMES
ON THE LISTNumber of Voters Larger
Than It Was a Year Ago

THERE ARE FEW CONTESTS

The Policy on the Liquor Question Is Somewhat in Doubt, Although the "No's" Profess to Have More Confidence.

The polling places will open to-morrow morning at 6 o'clock on what promises to be one of the quietest municipal elections Barre has ever known. The promised calm of the day is due to almost complete lack of contest over the city ticket. There is but one contested position, that of assessor for three years, in which C. L. Lease and James McAdam are the candidates. There are also contests in three of the four wards. The liquor policy of the city has not stirred up much excitement on the surface, at least.

The early opening of the polling places is due to a change allowed by the recent Vermont legislature. This was done to accommodate some voters in the granite plants, who leave home in the morning and do not return until late afternoon, or after the polls are closed at 3 o'clock. This may serve to bring out many of the votes which heretofore have gone unrecorded.

The checklist contains 1,916 names, which is a gain of 24 over the list of one year ago. Wards one, two, three and four contributed to this increase, wards five and six showing a reduction. The comparative statement of the registration is as follows:—
